

Thirty Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
November 15, 2015

Reflection on the Scriptures

"It shall be a time unsurpassed in distress since nations began until that time. At that time your people shall escape, everyone who is found written in the book." — Daniel 12:1

The end of the Church year reminds us of the end of the world. "It shall be a time unsurpassed in distress since nations began until that time" (Daniel 12:1). "Men will die of fright in anticipation of what is coming upon the earth" (Luke 21:26). "Indeed, had the Lord not shortened the period, not a person would be saved. But for the sake of those He has chosen, He has shortened the days" (Mark 13:20). "False messiahs and false prophets will appear performing signs and wonders to mislead, if it were possible, even the chosen. So be constantly on guard!" (Mark 13:22-23)

The Lord tells us to "stand erect" and hold our heads high (Luke 21:28) when the world ends. The way to have this confidence is to live for the Lord right now. If we end this year totally committed to the Lord, totally forgiven of sin, and totally forgiving of others, we can have confidence that we will be right with God at the world's end. If the world were to end today, what would you do? Saint Francis of Assisi had the right answer when he said: "I'd do what I'm doing now." Obeying the Lord is our only security for the future and the only security we need.
