January 21, 2018

Reflection on the Scriptures

"Jesus said to them, 'Come after Me.'" —Mark 1:17

Jesus is here. Drop everything. Imitate the Ninevites who stopped the workings of their whole society in order to fast, put on sackcloth, and repent (Jonah 3:5). When Simon and Andrew met Jesus, they dropped their fishing business (Mark 1:18). James and John did the same thing in addition to leaving behind their father, Zebedee (Mark 1:20).

Because Jesus is here and will come again in glory, husbands should live as though they did not have wives (1 Corinthians 7:29), that is, they should at times temporarily abstain from marital relations so that they can pray and fast (1 Corinthians 7:5).

Those who are weeping or rejoicing (1 Corinthians 7:30) should stop thinking about how they feel, because "the time is short" (1 Corinthians 7:29) and "the kingdom of God is at hand" (Mark 1:15, Presentation Ministries translation). Moreover, those who are buyers and involved in the world's system (see 1 Corinthians 7:30-31) need to start financial planning for the time when a person will not be allowed "to buy or sell anything unless he was first marked with the name of the beast" (Revelations 13:17). "The world as we know it is passing away" (1 Corinthians 7:31).

Christ has died. Drop everything. Christ is risen. Drop everything. Christ will come again. Drop everything. Jesus is Lord!
